

Quick Read

ead

Today in phonics we will be learning the ea sound.

First lets practise saying the ea sound together.

There are four different ways of spelling the ea sound, but today we are going to be looking at the ea sound that is made up of the letter e and the letter a.

Now have a go at writing the ea sound.

ea

steam

bead

heap

least

meat

repeat

Can you read this silly sentence and find the words that have an ea sound?

I like to read in the stream that leads to at least one sea.

Can you write a sentence with at least two words that have the ea sound in them.

You could use the words we've looked at today or think of different words.

Remember our rhyme; capital letter, finger space, does it make sense, full stop.
