

Welcome back Year 2! I hope you have all enjoyed the first full week back in class. This newsletter should give you all the information you need for this half-term.

In Year 2 we have the following adults supporting us throughout the week: Miss Blakeley, class teacher; Ms Rhodes, teaching assistant; and Mrs Weightman, teaching assistant. We are very lucky to have these adults supporting us in our learning.

Expectations

It is important to remember to always try our best and to set a good example for our peers and the other children in school.

The learning will be more challenging this year; there are also high expectations to persevere and work hard in all lessons. It will be tricky at times but I know we can all do it.

We also need to remember to be respectful and kind towards all adults and children in our bubble, as well as keeping each other safe. This does mean listening to other people and not getting upset if other people share different views.

Homework

This year, homework will be slightly different to before. Each half term there will be a homework grid which will have some non-negotiables such as reading, spellings and maths. The other activities can be chosen each week to complete. There will be different categories to choose from and I hope you enjoy the variety of homework options on offer.

Homework is to be uploaded onto Purplemash or emailed each Friday.
