Hi Everyone,

Today has been a very positive and uplifting day at Crossflatts Primary School. All of the children and staff arrived wearing our non-uniform and wellies in honour of Oliver. There was a wonderful sight in the sky this afternoon when we set off almost 500 bio-degradable balloons in Oliver's memory. We then all enjoyed an ice cream and a play outside. A fitting tribute to a beautiful little boy. I know his parents and family weren't far away and we hope the rainbow in the sky brought a smile to their faces. A huge thank you for all your very kind donations for the Walker family. I know they are simply overwhelmed with the generosity and support they have received from everyone and are drawing strength from the tributes, cards and letters they have received. Thank you.

A further reminder that we have launched our photography competition, where our children are challenged with taking a photo which represents 'Being the best I can be'. The closing date for these photos is April 16th. For further information and rules around the competition, please look at our website where full details are available. Maybe a perfect activity for one afternoon during the Easter holidays!

Please can I ask that you take a few moments to click on the link below and provide us with your views on our school for our annual survey. <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/R9RZR8C> Your feedback is greatly appreciated.

It has been a particularly tough half term here at Crossflatts Primary School and I would like to express my sincerest of thanks to everyone- the children, staff and parents for your continued support, on-going commitment and team effort. The Crossflatts spirit is unique and what makes us the special place we are; even in the hardest of times.

I wish everyone a lovely Easter holiday, with some rest and relaxation before we begin our exciting summer term on Monday 16th of April with some sunny days ahead.

Happy Easter!
