Our SEN Information
Report
December 2017

Lostwithiel Primary School prides itself on being an inclusive environment. Every member of staff is committed to supporting all children to achieve academically and to thrive socially and emotionally at school. Quality teaching enables most children to succeed however; there are times when individual children may need additional support. Our staff are trained to provide a wide range of interventions. We appreciate that not one size fits all so we tailor additional support to each individual child.

12. Pupil progress

Teachers assess and record children's progress every term. This information is shared at pupil progress meetings with the Senior Leadership Team. The SENDCo tracks the progress and attainment of children with SEND and this information is shared with the governors. Individual Education Plan (IEP) objectives are set with parents and reviewed termly at parents meetings, annual reviews or Team Around the Child (TAC) meetings.

13. How we know how good our SEND provision is

The effectiveness of provision is measured in a range of ways. Data is collected from the class teachers about progression in reading, writing and numeracy. Individual Intervention programmes have their own assessments that are carried out to track the children's progress. The SENDCo has provision maps for each class that map the provision for each child. These are reviewed each term.

14. If you wish to complain

Should anyone be unhappy with any aspect of the school then it is important that the school learns about this. In the first instance we would very much encourage parents to talk to their child's class teacher. Any continuing concerns will be passed on to the SENDCO or the Head teacher, who would meet with the parent. If there are still concerns that cannot be resolved then parents would be given a copy of the school's complaints procedure so that they can write a formal complaint to the Complaints Officer. For further information see the Complaints Policy which is available on the school website.

Answers to Frequently asked Questions

Below are examples of questions that parents may ask. Schools are encouraged to create their own questions and answers with parent/carers and young people.

1. How do people in school know if a pupil needs extra help?

All children at Lostwithiel School are closely monitored and teachers will discuss any concerns that they may have with parents at the earliest opportunity. Children's levels of academic attainment are closely tracked and monitored. This information is then used to identify any children that are in need of additional support. Teachers will initially discuss any concerns that they may have with parents. The school operates a graduated approach following the guidance within the SEN code of practice. If concerns are raised about a child then they will be added to the 'shadow support' group of children. This group of children are closely monitored by the class teacher. If the child remains a concern and insufficient progress is made then the child will move to 'SEN support' and will be placed on the school Record of Need (RON). Assessments to identify particular needs may then be undertaken. If the child still makes insufficient progress then the SENDCo may make a referral to external agencies for further support such as; Speech and Language, Educational Psychologist, Occupational Therapy, etc. Reports and advice from these professionals will help to direct support in school and at home. If the child is still having difficulties at this stage and is not making expected progress it may be appropriate to apply for an 'Education, Health and Care Plan' (EHP). This plan is developed from the advice of external professionals; objectives and provision are listed to ensure that the child has the most effective medical, educational and communicative support to achieve success. Some children may transfer to us with identified needs. The child's previous school will forward any information on assessment and provision for the child so that we can ensure that we continue to support the child within our setting.

2. What should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

If a parent has concerns about their child, then they should discuss these with their child's class teacher in the first instance. The SENDCO may then become involved, meeting with parents and making observations of the child in school. The school runs an open door policy so parents can speak to teachers and ask at reception to see the SENDCo (Special Educational Needs and Disability Co-ordinator) at any time.

3. Who is responsible for the progress and success of my child in school?

The school governors are responsible for the progress and attainment of all the children although they delegate this responsibility to the head teacher. They receive collated and anonymised data about the progress of groups of children and hold the Head teacher to account for how good this is, in comparison to nationally similar groups of children.

4. How is the curriculum matched to my child's needs?

This will depend upon the level of and type of need your child has. But the curriculum may be differentiated, a variety of ways of recording work and understanding may be used, extra support or intervention may be provided or additional resources may be used. There are times when children may need to work in an intervention group or and in some instances where needs are greater than 1:1 support may be provided.

5. How and who will the staff support my child?

It is the responsibility of the class teacher to plan for all the children in his/her class and he/she is also responsible for the overall assessment of their progress. Children are taught as a whole class, in small groups, partners or work independently. Some children may be taught with more individualised support from a teaching assistant. We believe it is important for children to work with a range of adults and although a key worker may be allocated to support a child with a Statement/EHCP we encourage children to work with every adult in their year group team.

6. How will I, and my child, know how well they are doing?

Parents can speak to the class teacher at any time to keep up to date with their child's progress. A report is sent home in the Summer term of each year and parent's evenings are run three times a year. Parents of children who are on the Special Educational Needs Register will be invited into school every term to discuss their child's progress and to decide on targets after discussion with the class teacher. Regular Pupil and Teacher conferencing ensures that pupils know how they are doing and able to contribute to their next steps / targets

7. What support is there for my child's overall wellbeing?

Lostwithiel School takes the wellbeing of its pupils very seriously and work closely with parents to ensure this. Staff form strong relationships with pupils which provides a strong supportive network which enables pupils to voice concerns. There is a strong focus on teaching children emotional literacy and how to manage and respond to feelings. In addition, there are a range of interventions which may be used to provide additional support should we agree this is needed such as: draw and talk, play therapy, a Volcano in my Tummy, Time for Talk and Thrive. If additional support is needed referrals can be made to a range of agencies.

8. How do I know that my child is safe in school?

All adults working with children are CRB cleared (background checked) and have Safeguarding training. There are up to date policies on all areas related to health and safety in school and these are available on the school website or on request. There is a Safeguarding Lead and Deputy in school. There are members of staff who are first aid trained and the school site has regular safety inspections as does all electrical equipment. Any trips or visits are risk assessed prior to departure and the school educational visits policy is followed.

9. How is my child included in activities outside the classroom including school trips?

As Lostwithiel School is a fully inclusive school all children participate in whole school, curriculum and off site activities. The extent to which each child participates and levels of support received will vary between children, but we differentiate the activities and expectations to enable all children to take part. All trips are risk assessed and children with special educational needs and/or disabilities will have personalised risk assessments as required.

10. How accessible is the school environment?

Disabled toilets / 3 levels /

11. How will school prepare and support me/my child through the transition from key stage to key stage and beyond?

As children move through the school, time is set aside for teachers to share information about their classes. This ensures all children's needs and any additional provision that may be required is shared as the child move on. As children enter Year 6 a programme for Transition is put into place. Many local Secondary schools offer 'taster days' as well as additional transition opportunities for more vulnerable children. The SENDCo from Lostwithiel School will meet the SENDCos from the local Secondary schools to discuss the needs of individual children. For children with Statements/ECHPs the SENDCo will raise the subject of secondary transition at the Year 5 Annual Review meeting so that parents can think about the most appropriate provision for their child and start looking for a secondary school. Once the child is in Year 6, meetings are arranged with the transferring secondary school and individual transition plans are developed where needed. Some children may need regular visits to their new school. They may need to take pictures and ask questions before they feel comfortable with the move. We aim to support children individually to ensure that their transition is successful.

12. How are the school's resources allocated and matched to pupils' special educational needs?

The school receives funding to deliver education to all children. Where additional support is necessary, resources are provided where possible. If a child has profound and multiple needs the school can apply for top up funding, via an Education Health Care Plan from the SEN Provision and Assessment Team.

13. How is the decision made about what type and how much support each pupil receives?

The type and level of support your child receives will be based upon what your child needs in order to overcome barriers to learning and make appropriate progress. Decisions will be based on our knowledge of your child, consultation with the parents/carers and any advice available from outside professionals.

14. Who can I contact for further information?

You can contact your child's class teacher, the Head Teacher Natalie Simmonds or the SENCO Jo Barnes
