1. Introduction

This policy has been developed with regard to regulations concerning Equal Opportunities and in consultation with staff and Governors.

2. Commitment

At Redcourt St Anselm's, we seek to provide opportunities for all individuals to reach their potential and to value themselves and their place in society, irrespective of gender, ethnicity, socio-economic background, or ability range.

All members of our school community are encouraged to respect others without prejudice and to develop sensitivity to and empathy with the needs of others. They are expected to develop this awareness and understanding in a Christian context and with an appreciation of cultural and social diversity within a local, national and global sphere.

We aim to prepare all pupils for life in our multicultural society, and celebrate the richness of cultural diversity.

We believe that equal opportunity approaches should underpin all aspects of school life and should not be seen as a subject only to be taught through curriculum areas. We seek to ensure that there are no barriers to pupils taking full advantage of their educational entitlement.

It is the responsibility of every individual to counter racism, sexism, negative attitudes towards disability and other discriminatory practices.

It has regard to the Equality Act 2010 and the Children and Families Act of 2014 and encourages respect for all with particular regard to those with protected characteristic.

3. Responsibilities

- Making sure the equal opportunities policy is readily available and that the governors, staff, pupils and their parents and guardians know about it;
- Making sure the equal opportunities policy and its procedures are followed;
- Producing regular information for staff and governors about the policy and how it is working, and providing training for them on the policy, if necessary;
- Making sure all staff know their responsibilities and receive training and support in carrying these out; and
- Taking appropriate action in cases of harassment and discrimination in any form.

All Staff

All staff are responsible for:

Staff with Specific Responsibilities

- Non statutory guide to racial equality suggests a senior member of staff or a governor be responsible for overall co-ordination; at Redcourt St Anselm's the Headteacher has overall responsibility.

Visitors and Contractors

Visitors and contractors are responsible for:

- Knowing and following, our equal opportunities policy.

4. Racial Equality

At Redcourt St Anselm's we aim to eliminate unlawful racial discrimination, and to promote equal opportunities and good race relationships in all areas of school life.

We have a form for logging racial incidents.

The Headteacher should be informed immediately of any such cases.

We will achieve Racial Equality by:

Acknowledging that members of the school understand different cultural, racial and socio-economic backgrounds and endeavouring to foster an atmosphere of mutual respect in everyday school life;

Valuing the history, experience and contribution of our multi-cultural community and seeking to express this in the curriculum and life of our school;

Acknowledging that while there is a need for pupils to learn and communicate in standard English, their home language should be celebrated and respected;

Not tolerating racist behaviour in any form.

5. Gender

As a school we aim to eliminate unlawful gender discrimination in any form and, wherever possible, to promote equal opportunities for all members of the school community. This is implemented with full regard of our commitments to traditional girls and boys sports which are influenced by our independent school status.

We will achieve Gender Equality by:

Encouraging pupils to be aware of gender stereotypes presented by, for example, the media, and gender bias views in literature;

Examining the curriculum, procedures and resources for gender bias inequality;

Providing a curriculum which avoids unnecessary historical gender divisions;

Ensuring that teachers allocate their time fairly between the sexes and that all pupils have opportunities to work with pupils of both sexes.

6. Sexuality

At Redcourt St Anselm's we aim to eliminate any unlawful sexual discrimination in any form.

We will achieve Sexual Equality by:

Making no assumptions about sexuality of any members of our school community;

Sex Education for KS2 children – answering pupils' questions as they arise as honestly, factually and non-judgementally as possible;

Not tolerating name calling of any sort.

7. Religious

As a Catholic school we aim to uphold the Catholic faith while recognising and exploring other faiths.

We will achieve Religious Equality by:

Implementing the opportunities presented in The Way, The Truth and The Life education programme to explore other faiths;

Promoting non-discriminatory attitudes among pupils;

8. Curriculum and Teaching

At Redcourt St Anselm's we apply the principles underlying the National Curriculum as stated in Section 1 of the Education Reform Act of 1988.

8.2 These principles place a statutory responsibility on schools to provide a broad and balanced curriculum which promotes the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils at the school, and prepares pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.

We aim to provide a curriculum that offers all children the chance to develop an extensive range of subjects, knowledge and skills.

We will achieve this by:

Assessing and meeting the needs of all our pupils;

Creating a happy and educationally exciting environment in which all abilities can prosper;

Implementing a wide range of teaching and learning strategies to allow children of different abilities the chance to achieve;

Recognising that pupils with specific educational needs constitute a very diverse group; they include pupils with physical, emotional, behavioural or learning difficulties, those with impaired sight or hearing, and those who are especially able

Providing specific educational needs teaching for children who, for the reasons given above, may need extra support

Seeking assistance and advice from a range of agencies where appropriate: for example speech therapists, medical practitioners, psychologists, social workers and the staff of the Hearing and Vision Support Services;

Working in line with the Specific Educational Needs Policy;

Working in line with the Early Years Equality guidelines

Providing opportunities for discussion and exploration of prejudice, stereotyping and bias through the area of Education for Personal Relationships;

Encouraging children to apply a discriminatory approach to all they hear and read; to be aware of authors' bias and to read critically (eg in the English curriculum);

Allowing children to develop the skills necessary to distinguish between fact and opinion (eg in the History curriculum)

Ensuring that pupils with physical disabilities are facilitated in participating in the school's curriculum to the fullest possible extent within the limitations of the building;

Promoting high standards of good behaviour through the development of self-discipline and mutual respect for others;

Implementing sanctions and rewards consistently throughout the school;

9. Harassment and Bullying

Harassment and bullying may be described as unreciprocated and unwelcome comments, looks, actions, suggestions or physical contact that is found to be objectionable and offensive and that might threaten a child's security and employee's job security, or create an intimidating or uncomfortable environment.

This may be based on sex, race, disability, sexual orientation or age.

As a school we will not tolerate harassment, abuse or intimidation to other members of the school community.

We will achieve this by:

Ensuring that all members of the school community are alert to all forms of bullying and harassment as outlined;

Creating a safe and welcoming environment for all;

Ensuring that all staff are confident to deal firmly, consistently, and effectively with bullying and harassment.

10. Recruitment and Pupil Admission

We aim to reflect the make-up of the local community in the people employed, in the light of suitability of applicants for a post. We strive to ensure that the pupil admission policy is non discriminatory.

11. Implementation

This policy will be communicated to staff through the circulation of the written policy statement and through staff meetings.

The aims of the school regarding equality will be both explicitly and implicitly conveyed to all, through the example of the senior management of the school and all staff employed at Runnymede.

The In-service training requirements of the equal opportunities policy will be considered within the School Development Plan.

12. Assessment

The impact and effectiveness of the equal opportunities policy will be assessed by:

Collecting and analysing relevant monitoring and other data;

Talking to pupils, parents and staff to find out their needs and opinions;

Carrying out surveys, one-to-one interviews, classroom discussions or special research.

13. Review

The results of these assessments will be used to:

Review the Equal Opportunities Policy objectives (where necessary)

Establish how effective the policy is in tackling discrimination, and promoting equal opportunities and good race relations;

Inform the school community about how the policy is working.

14. Breaches of this Policy

The Headteacher has ultimate responsibility for ensuring compliance with this document and will put into practice school disciplinary procedures as appropriate with the support of the SMT and all staff.
