12th April 2021

Natalie

Early Intervention Family Workers offer you an opportunity to ask for information, advice and support on anything affecting your family life in a relaxed and confidential environment. (During the coronavirus pandemic we are still offering support, however this is currently on a virtual basis)

Activity Idea

Flight school! This activity is suitable for all ages. Get your children to design and create their own paper plane. Next, cut 3-4 large holes in a big piece of card and assign points to each hole. Prop up the piece of card and let your children have fun trying to fly their paper plane through the holes, counting up the points as they go. You can even go back to the drawing board and encourage them to improve their design using different folds or pieces of paper. This activity can help with counting, fine motor skills and critical thinking, but most importantly, it's fun!

Parenting Top Tip

It can be really difficult to hear your child talking negatively about themselves. Often a parent's natural instinct is to come back with 'don't be silly' or 'no you're not'. However as adults, we know that doesn't always help. Here are some things you can try if your child is talking negatively about themselves that will support them over time:

1. Empathise with them. Let them know that you appreciate they are having a hard time and that you understand it is difficult.
2. Share your own experiences. Talk with them about similar situations you have been in, either as an adult or a child. This may lead to them asking questions about how you dealt with it.
3. Role modelling. Show your child what positive self-talk looks like. You are their biggest role models.
