

Nancealverne Parents/Carers Bulletin

2015

A warm welcome back to everyone and especially to all our new pupils. The year is quickly filling up with events, so I have also included a Term Time list with inset days, and parents evenings.

Just a reminder that we also have the Facebook Nancealverne Parent Notice Board which will have flyers on of upcoming events as well. Just to remind parents that this Facebook page is purely for sharing information and is not for sharing opinions.

Parents/Carers are more than welcome to email or send in any relevant articles, information or advice that may be useful to other parents which can be included in the newsletter.

If parents need to contact me you can do so, either by telephone, email or school bag. My email address is: hsl@nancealverne.org.uk.

I hope you all have a good year and look forward to seeing you at future coffee mornings and workshops.

Sibling Support

Spectrum are running sessions from 19th September for age 7-11 year olds who have brothers or sisters on the Autism Spectrum. They meet once a month in Truro at the Pearl Centre and each session will be different, focussing on learning more about Autism, their siblings and how it might affect them. It will also help with gaining confidence and meeting other children in similar situations. To book a place please phone the Pearl Centre on: 01872 278378

Sessions will be taking place on:

September 19th: 10am-11.30am

October 17th: 10am– 11.30am

November 14th: 10am– 11.30am

December 12th: 10am –11.30am

“Teaching your Autistic child about Sexuality”

The NAS have arranged for Kate Reynolds to talk to parent/carers on the above topic at the Penventon hotel next Tuesday, 15th September at 7.30pm. Joe Garbett, from the NAS brokerage service will also be there to talk to parents afterwards. Details on the NAS website: www.autism.org.uk
