

A Message from Mrs Hewins

Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope that you had a wonderful and restful half term holiday. In our first week back, the children have been immersing themselves in their history topics through workshops and visits including trips to the Museum of London, the Museum of Childhood and the Migration Museum.

It was lovely to receive feedback from one of the workshop leaders at the Museum of London that the children were the most intellectually engaged he had ever seen!

It was also great to see the children dressed up in such fantastic costumes on dress up day, including some very imaginative creations! We look forward to seeing their learning develop as the term progresses.

Black History Week

This year there was a plethora of activities to celebrate Black History Month. Our theme was Inspirational Role Models and children across the school looked at writers such as Maya Angelou, Benjamin Zephaniah and Valeria Bloom. We had drumming and dancing workshops as well as workshops by spoken word artist, Kenny Baraka. Year 3 and 4 were lucky enough to meet Dr Ronke Ikharia from Homerton Hospital who told them her inspirational story about becoming a doctor. The children showcased their learning at a special assembly just before half term!

Y5 Jungle Book

Year 5 have begun rehearsals for their Disney musical production. They will be working hard between now and March on all aspects of the show: music, script, dancing, costumes, props, marketing and more! Everyone in the school community will have an opportunity to watch a final performance, and there will be more information on this in due course. Watch this space!

WINTER FAIR: DECEMBER 8th

Please respond to the letter on ParentMail if you are keen to help out and get involved at our yearly Winter Celebration!

Sculpture Project!

Children from years 1 to 5 are currently working on an exciting new art project for the school. In collaboration with an artist from Bow Arts, we are creating a sculpture installation inspired by and to be sited in the school meadow. Each class has had an initial workshop with the artist to generate ideas and children will be helping her to create the final pieces by the end of term.

On Your Marks, Get Set, Cook!

On the 18th October, the children were treated to a healthy cooking show hosted by our catering team, Chartwells. Two teachers and some children were nominated to cook a healthy meal in front of the whole school that a few lucky children got to taste. Both teams did a fantastic job but the red team won the school's stomachs and were crowned cooking champions! If you are interested in the recipes that they cooked, you can find them here.

London Symphony Orchestra choose Jubilee!

The London Symphony Orchestra chose Jubilee as the school to take part in a special showcase workshop at their St Luke's practice and performance space near the Barbican. Children from year 6 worked with LSO amateur Rachel Leech and two professional musicians to create their own version of Westside Story! It was a fantastically creative experience and we can't wait to continue our second year of working with the LSO.

Year 4 at Museum of London

This week, Year 4 went to the Museum of London to launch our new topic all about the Romans.

We explored the Roman galleries, stopping to sketch things that caught our eye along the way.

Then we had a workshop handling genuine Roman artefacts, asking questions and acting like real archaeologists for the day.

We're looking forward to seeing what we find out next!

Farewell to our School Patrol Crossing Officer

Sadly the School Patrol Crossing Officer, Maylene Cave, will no longer be working at Jubilee. Please can parents pay extra care when using the crossing and indeed any of the road network as you journey to and from school, especially as we are now going towards the darker months of the year.
