Good Shepherd Project

As you'll have noticed, we've welcomed one of nine model sheep to St John's this week as part of the Diocese of Gloucester's 'Good Shepherd Project'. The sheep will stay with us until the 25th of February and we'll be taking part in a number of activities to learn about the symbolism behind this. I'm sure the children will tell you all about what they have learned at home.

Please make sure to keep up to date on our Facebook page where we'll be posting updates on the sheep's time at St John's and the fun activities we've been taking part in at school.

School Uniform

We've noticed recently that the school's uniform policy is not being followed, particularly on PE days. PE kit is part of the school's uniform and we'd appreciate it if children can wear the correct colours of garments, if not the branded garments available through our suppliers.

Furthermore, PE kit should be worn on the days when the children take part in PE lessons – two days in the school week. This does not apply to those days when the children take part in after-school activities, when the children should bring PE kit in separately.

Celebrating all achievements

At St John's we know that so many of our pupils achieve so many wonderful things outside of the school, be it sporting achievements, academic, musical... the list goes on. We'd love to start celebrating the children's personal achievements in school also and are now inviting children to share with the school community in collective worship what they have been up to outside of school. I look forward to seeing what the children bring in.

Goodbye and Congratulations

We are very sad to share that Mrs Lewis will be leaving St John's after working in the school for nearly 20 years. Mrs Lewis has been a loyal member of the St John's team and will be sorely missed by the children and staff alike. Please join me in wishing Mrs Lewis the very best of luck with her future endeavours.

We are also delighted to wish our congratulations to Miss Gayton, who will return to school after the half term as Mrs Appleby as she gets married. I'm sure you'll all offer her our best wishes for her future with Mr Appleby.

Parent Council

Next week, the parent council and I will be meeting for the first time to collaborate on various issues related to school improvement, including communication and homework. At the moment we have three members and are always looking out for more to join us. If you are interested, please feel free to come and have a chat via the school office, or drop the office an email and I'll get back to you.
