Thoughts of an Acting Head Teacher

We have started a new term with a whole school project focusing on bats. It was great to see the enthusiasm of the children researching the job title of a bat specialist and well done to all of those children who found the word - chiropterologist! pronounced like chiropodist. We have our whole school trip to Bristol zoo to look forward to and we are starting an exciting music project with Haygrove School to demonstrate our new knowledge of bats.

Mr L Kelly

Chair of Governors

It is with regret that I inform you of the resignation of our Chair of governors, Mike Hodson. Due to unforeseen circumstances he has had to step down with immediate effect. If you have any queries or concerns that you wish to raise with the governors could you please email Helen Roper, Clerk to governors, on HRoper1@somerset.gov.uk whilst we appoint a new Chair.

Safeguarding Update

I never get undressed or change my clothes
when I'm on camera

LGfL DigiSafe

Parents and teachers, find out why this message is important at undressed.lgfl.net
Download this poster from safeposters.lgfl.net, see more materials at safesources.lgfl.net

Parents of teenagers may have considered discussing the message in this poster with their children, but London Grid for Learning recommend teaching children of all ages the message that they should never get undressed when they are on camera. If all children are regularly reminded of this easy to remember message, it can make a real difference to keeping them safe.

For more information about why it is important to share the message with even the youngest children, visit: undressed.lgfl.net
