Dear Parent(s)

I hope you are well in these strange and unprecedented times. We would like to bring to your attention a concern we have regarding large groups of teenagers (in excess of 100) congregating in and around the Rising Sun Country Park.

Many of these young people are not socially distancing and are engaging in anti-social behavior. In recent weeks we have taken intoxicated teenagers home and recovered large quantities of alcohol. We have also received reports of Nitrous Oxide abuse which is of particular concern.

It is important to acknowledge the vast majority of young people in Wallsend are perfectly law abiding and well behaved. However, as I am sure you will appreciate, anti-social behavior causes significant concern in the local community. As parents of teenage children, we are requesting your support regarding their behaviour and conduct.

Any child found to be drunk and/or engaging in anti-social behavior will be taken home or risk being arrested. We also work closely with North Tyneside Council and other partner agencies in order to take action as deemed appropriate.

Should any parents have concerns or wish to discuss this information then please do contact Wallsend Neighborhood Police team based at Middle Engine Lane on the above telephone number or email Wallsend.npt@northumbria.pnn.police.uk

Thank you
