

ISLEHAM WEEKLY NEWS

Week commencing: Monday 11th January 2021

NEW NATIONAL LOCKDOWN PROVISION JANUARY 2021

What a week it has been! On Monday last week, we re-opened as guided for all pupils with our new measures in place, but by Monday evening, this was reduced with no notice to the attendance of only children of critical workers and those pupils whose attendance is deemed essential, in support of the national effort to reduce the risk of transmission of Covid-19 in our community during this latest lockdown.

You have all been incredibly supportive of the school and your children whether they are at home or in school, and I am delighted that all children in both groups have been able to continue their learning successfully & safely thanks to all of you and to the school team; it has been great to see almost every child accessing the enhanced remote learning provision available,

Please do get in touch with the school if your child is experiencing any difficulties in logging into ClassDojo or submitting work. Your children's teachers will also be happy to make contact with you.

The latest guidance to schools in the national lockdown can be found here:-

Thank you again. Please continue to log on to ClassDojo regularly as parents to see messages from the school and your child's marked work.

Some further advice for parents can be found here: <https://parentzone.org.uk/lockdown-advice-and-resources>

If any parents are struggling in this latest lockdown accessing essential support, the Cambridgeshire hubs continue to operate and can be contacted as below:-
