

'Twas the Night Before School Started

'Twas the night before school started

When all through the city

Some parents were nervous,

And some were saying "Yippee!"

By eight, kids were washed

And tucked up in bed

With thoughts of school

Running through their heads.

New shoes, new clothes and a bookbag too!

New teachers, new friends

Their excitement grew

The parents knew then, they would be alright

And said up the stairs

"Go to bed! It is a school night!"
