COURAGE

"Let your light shine." Matthew 5:16

This week in school we have had a strong focus on Courage and what this can look like for different people. The children and staff have shown great courage over these last few weeks and have coped so well with all the changes and frustrations of not being able to have school in the way we would prefer (one whole school family).

Tomorrow (Saturday 10th October) is World Mental Health Day and we are using this in school, as an opportunity to further raise awareness of keeping our minds, as well as our bodies, as healthy as possible. If you or your child are struggling with mental health, please refer to the many links on the school website, and in the letters we have sent home over the last two weeks.

Mrs Seagrave's Good Manners Award

Back by popular request, we have decided to reinstate my award to a child who has displayed wonderful manners and respect in and around school.

Last week, I was delighted to present my first award of the year, to Ryan B in Class 4 for always displaying beautiful manners and a respectful attitude to all members of the school family.

Well done Ryan, I am very proud of you.

RELATIONSHIPS AND SEX EDUCATION PARENTAL ENGAGEMENT

Today, your child should have brought home a letter and questionnaire (double sided) with information about the teaching of Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) at Lea Endowed. Following recent changes to government statutory requirements in Relationships Education, we wish to give you an opportunity to answer 4 questions about your thoughts on this subject.

For further information, you can find our RSE Policy on the school website, along with an appendix which outlines the Progression of Vocabulary for Relationships and Sex Education that are used across the different year groups (paper copies available on request).

I would very much appreciate you reading the information on the letter, completing the short questionnaire (to be found on the back of the letter) and returning it to school by Friday 16th October. Thank you

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any concerns, queries or if you would just like to share some good news!

Thank you for your support, CM Seagrave
