

Class 5 Newsletter

Autumn Term – 15/11/19

This Week...

Maths

This week we have been ordering and comparing fractions including positioning them on a number line, finding equivalent fractions and simplifying fractions. The children have found this topic challenging but have worked hard!

Please continue to encourage the children to access their TIMES TABLE ROCKSTARS ACCOUNTS at home.

English

This week we have written persuasive letters to Mrs Seagrave outlining why we would like to be considered to go to 'The Compassion Experience' in Blackburn next week. Three lucky children will be able to attend this unique journey, which explores the lives of children in poverty. Additionally, this week we have started a new class novel: War of the Worlds by H. G. Wells.

Across The Curriculum

In History we have been looking at which countries were involved in World War One and we have researched the main events during the war. We have covered online safety and Cyber bullying as part of anti-bullying week. In D.T. we have begun making the carriages for our Polar Express extravaganza!

Next Week...

English

We will be continuing with our Class Novel; we will be exploring the author's use of language and writing a continuation of the story based on our predictions.

Maths

We will be continuing with our work on fractions - looking at percentages and decimals and how they link together.
