Dear Parents,

Mrs Haynes

Thank you for your kind words and best wishes for Mrs Alice Haynes, our wonderful Teaching Assistant and Learning Mentor who is unwell. We are thrilled to report some positive and hopeful news. Please see below from this week's update by her son Freddie:

"In January and February mum's cancer markers were high and on the increase which caused her much anxiety... but last week when we saw her Oncologist the markers were falling quite dramatically which now indicates that all her medications are working and hopefully towards putting the cancer tumours into remission. Also her blood tests show that everything is within range and she's able to continue with this course of action. The recent CT scan also showed no new growths, although we are waiting on the radiologist's report to confirm and will also have an idea of how much they have shrunk. All in all last week was the first good week in months."

This is great news and Mrs Haynes wishes to pass on her love and thanks to everyone. For more information, or to donate to help Mrs Haynes and her family, please visit

Aquarium Visit

Poppy Class enjoyed a virtual school trip to the National Marine Aquarium in Plymouth. Hosted on TEAMS, the experience involved an exclusive tour guide with two-way Q&A sessions to enrich our learning under the sea!

We are seeking further enrichment opportunities for classes this term to offer exciting visits and visitors, despite ongoing national restrictions on trips. More details soon!

Our Aquarium is made up of four zones, with lots of different exhibits and animals found in each. The way our Aquarium is laid out means you start your journey in the local waters of Plymouth Sound.

The further you journey around the Aquarium, the further you journey around the world's Ocean, finishing up in the stunning Great Barrier Reef.

Take a look at some of the zones and exhibits we have in the Aquarium and find out more about them, as well as some of the animals you'll meet when you visit us.
