

SEND information report - Bratton Fleming CP School

What sort of a school is Bratton Fleming Community Primary School?

Bratton Fleming Community Primary School is a mainstream primary school which is proud of its inclusivity with Special Educational Needs & Difficulties (SEND) and disabilities.

The school has a PAN of 17 for each year group, this means that all teaching is done in mixed age classes. Pupils at the school are aged 4-11. The school feeds predominantly from the local pre-school and care is taken to ensure that transition arrangements support the needs of the individual with extra sessions offered to children with SEND.

What is SEND?

The Code of Practice (2014) states that a child or young person has a special educational need or disability if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

The Local Authority Local Offer:

The Children and Families Bill will become enacted in 2014. From this date, Local Authorities and schools are required to publish, and keep under review, information about services they expect to be available for the children and young people with Special Educational Needs (SEN) aged 0-25. This is the 'Local Offer'.

The intention of the Local Offer is to improve choice and transparency for families. It will also be an important resource for parents in understanding the range of services and provision in the local area.

The Devon Local offer can be accessed at: <https://www.devon.gov.uk/educationandfamilies/special-educational-needs-and-disability-send-local-offer>

The SEND Information Report:

The SEND Information Report uses the LA Local Offer to meet the needs of pupils with SEND as determined by school policy, and the provision that the school is able to meet.

What type of special educational needs do pupils currently at Bratton Fleming have?

In 2018-19 the school successfully included pupils with a wide range of SEND including difficulties with: cognition and learning; communication and interaction; social, emotional and mental health; and sensory or physical needs.

How does the school identify pupils needing additional support?

The staff within the school closely monitor the progress of all children in the school on a regular basis. The school tracks children's progress on the National Curriculum, and uses the Boxhall approach to assess social and emotional development. The Head teacher and SENDCO have a termly meeting with each class teacher and the class teaching assistant in which each child's progress is discussed in detail. Children requiring support and/or adjustments to provision are identified and a plan of action drawn up to be discussed with parents. Some children may need extra help for only a short period of time, whilst some may have longer term difficulties. The progress of children already receiving extra help is checked to ensure they are making good progress and any changes to provision are discussed and agreed.

The school has a close relationship with many other agencies and professionals and in some cases may seek additional advice for children with SEND.

We work closely with a range of outside agencies including:

- Educational Psychology Service
- Advisory Teachers for children with visual or hearing needs
- DIAS
- SALT (Speech and Language Therapy)
- Communication and Interaction Team
- Behaviour Support Team

Health Provision delivered in school

- School Nurse
- Occupational Therapy
- Physiotherapy
- CAMHs (Child and Adolescent Mental Health)

Help will only be requested from outside agencies after consultation with parents/carers.

What should I do if I think my child needs more help in school?

Teachers are available at the beginning and end of the school day to talk to parents about any concerns. A separate time can be arranged to have a longer discussion if necessary. The Head teacher and SENDCO can be contacted by e mail brattonfleming@ventrus.org.uk or by phone (01598 710337) and are happy to meet with parents to discuss any concerns and agree the best way forward.

How will I know about support planned for my child?

At termly parents' evenings, teachers discuss progress with parents and agree plans for extra support. Some children will have a more detailed Individual Education Plan (IEP) agreed with parents and other professionals in Team around the Family meetings (TAF meetings). The IEP will be reviewed regularly with all involved to ensure that the child is making as much progress as possible. Children with an Education, Health and Care plan (EHCP) have an Annual review meeting where progress over the year is discussed in detail, and plans for the next 12 months agreed with parents and children. At times of transition to other schools additional meetings and support plans are put into place for children and their families. In all the above meetings the support of parents in their child's learning is welcomed and seen as an important part of helping the child make as much progress as possible.

What sort of extra support might my child have?

The school aims to include every child in as much learning as possible alongside their peers in the mainstream classroom. It provides a wide range of additional support to enable children to achieve this. The curriculum may be adapted to meet individual children's special educational needs. It is recognised that some children may need additional or different provision for varying amounts of their timetable. The school uses a THRIVE approach to support additional social and emotional needs and also employs a family support worker.

How will I know if my child is doing well?

In addition to parents' evenings, the school encourages informal conversations between staff and parents so that success can be celebrated quickly and problems discussed at an early stage. The children and their parents are seen as key players in ensuring successful supporting children with SEND and regular contact is seen as important. Some children may have a home-school book to keep parents in touch with daily events and all children receive an Annual Report on their progress.

How will my child be included in school activities?

All children with SEND are taught within a mainstream class and are involved in all aspects of school life; this includes: class assemblies, outings, residential trips and after school clubs. Children with SEND play a full and active part in school life.

Who supports children with SEN and disabilities at Bratton Fleming?

All staff at Bratton Fleming support children with SEND but the following may be particularly involved in supporting your child;

How are parents involved in the school?

At Bratton Fleming we invite parents and carers to join us in a range of events including assemblies, celebrations and special events. We are keen to develop our PTA and welcome parental involvement. We are keen to explore parental skills and talents so that we can work well as a team to support and develop the whole school community.

How can I get more information about SEN in Devon?

Devon Information Advice and Support (DIAS) <http://www.devonias.org.uk/> provide general advice and support on many aspects of education of children with SEN and disabilities and can be of particular help at times of transition from primary to secondary school. The support provided by Devon Local Authority for children with SEN and disabilities can be found in at <https://new.devon.gov.uk/educationandfamilies/>. Teachers and the SENDCo can direct parents to other organisations and services that can provide additional support for SEND.

What should I do if I am worried or unhappy about the support my child is receiving in school?

Parents are encouraged to talk to the teacher or the SENDCo in the first instance. If a parent still feels concerned, the Governor responsible for SEND (Jo Galbraith) can be contacted via the school's email address brattonfleming@ventrus.org.uk. DIAS (see details above) can advise parents on how to proceed if they feel their concerns are not being adequately addressed by the school or the Local Authority.
