In Case You Missed It...

This half term is as busy as any that we can remember, and everyone is working so hard – pupils, staff, governors, PTA, volunteers and parents! We are so grateful for everyone's support. Here are a few reminders, just in case:

- The Summer Fete is tomorrow! The PTA committee and other volunteers have worked incredibly hard as always to get everything organised, and it is sure to be a great success. Gates open at midday – please join us with your friends and family (and bring with you any sold and unsold prize draw tickets, cake and bottle donations ☺).
- Almost every child in the school has had a poem published in our second annual Poet Laureate anthology book – these are being professionally printed and are available to order via Parentmail for just £3.90. They will make great souvenirs and gifts, and your child will be able to consider themselves a published poet!
- Since we had to postpone Key Stage 2 sports day, we will be trying again on Tuesday morning – as with the original date, we will be having a picnic lunch on the field afterwards, with pupils able to book a 'grab and go' lunch from the dining hall if they wish.
- The final of Laureate's Got Talent will be next Friday; there were a huge number of entries this year, but the House Captains want to give everyone who practised hard and auditioned the chance to take part. They will be giving out slips to all the finalists to confirm the details; if your child is performing, please do come along and support them!

Well done to...

- Year 4, who completed the government's pilot multiplication tables check this week: although it's not an 'official' test this year, the children still tried their best and did incredibly well, with almost everyone scoring 20 out of 25 or higher and lots of children getting full marks!
- Year 1, who completed the government's phonics screening check last week: they all tried so hard too, and there were some amazing scores – almost everyone got 30 out of 40 or higher!
- Our girls' cricket team, who finished fourth in Tuesday's tournament: they won three out of four games in their group and just missed out on the final due to runs scored!
