

Head Teacher News

This week the children will find out who their new teacher is in September. As I reach the end of the themes I would have covered in assemblies this term it seems very fitting that we are onto "and learn."

The core principle as to why we come to the Calton site is for the children to learn. There is no doubt that this term we have been disrupted in this for many reasons - being unwell, access to the internet, days when it is difficult to be motivated etc . However, due to now having many children back since the beginning of June and the phone calls we have managed to have with you I believe that as a school we are more than ready to see you all again in the new academic year ready for learning.

This will mean maths and English of course and all the other planned areas of the curriculum but most of all we are ready to learn from each other - what we have been doing, how we have managed during this time and thinking about our futures. Learning happens all the time and we love that we share that opportunity with our Calton community - which is going to be at its biggest so far because we will have our full complement of 21 Classes for the first time.

We are busy planning what coming onto our site looks like in September now that we can welcome you all back. Along with information about Class teachers and Reports next week please also keep an eye out for logistics information, school may be different to how we know it but we can't wait to learn together again!

Calton Playgroup News

Hope you are all keeping well and busy.

In the Sun satellite we have been focusing on art using various techniques. We have been reading Monstersaurus and creating our own monster friend.

In the Moon satellite we have been dancing and singing following 'Go Noodle' on YouTube - why not join us at home? We have been discovering the various noises that instruments make and painting bumble bees.

Why not join us doing Cosmic Yoga on YouTube? Please share anything you have been doing at home with us by email.

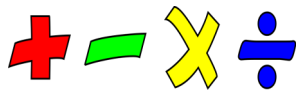

IMPORTANT Please make a note of our new email address: playgroup@caltonprimary.co.uk

REMINDER Please keep checking Calton Primary School website for our Playgroup newsletter and any updates www.caltonprimary.co.uk

Keep smiling and playing
