February Half Term at the Burton

Arts Lab!

Free fabulous drop-in art activities for all ages.

Tuesday 18 February, 10am-12pm & 1-3pm

Storytime at the Museum

Free story-telling fun perfect for younger children.

Tuesday 18 February, 10.30-11.30am

Juneau Projects

Work with artists Juneau Projects to create an illustrated publication and exhibition celebrating The Burton's ceramics collection. They will be making illustrations, paintings, collages and prints depicting the collection in a series of workshops suitable for both children and adults alike.

Free drop-in session, Tuesday 18 February, 10am-3pm

Family Friendly Printing Workshop

Free drop-in printing workshop with Sarah Farrell-Roberts from Washhouse Studios. Come and try your hands at lino-cut printing with a selection of inks and make a variety of your own pieces of art that you will be able to take home on the day. Perfect for Adults and Children alike.

Saturday 22 February, drop-in anytime between 10am-4pm

Exhibition - The Printed Line

The Printed Line, an Arts Council Collection touring exhibition, is an outstanding display of printed works by major 20th century European and British artists. Featured artists include Henri Matisse, Pablo Picasso and Bridget Riley, to name but a few. Make sure you have a go with our gallery activities packs where you can learn about different printing techniques.

Free entry everyday 10am-4pm (Sunday 11am-4pm)

To find out more about any of the activities/ exhibition visit www.theburton.org or call us on 01237 471455