There are various resources to support preparation for the KS2 SATs assessments.

Here are links to 3 schemes, in no particular order.

Collins print various workbooks and revision guides. There are also some free downloadable resources online.

Rising Stars similarly produce a range of revision guides and have free downloadable resources.

CPG are equally useful and many children find it good to have a workbook to support revision before moving to the practice test exercises. They too have online resources.

All of these are available from branches of WH Smith or from the WH Smith website, or from Amazon or the companies' own websites.

If you are unsure whether your child should be concentrating on the expected standard or greater depth standard material, please contact me for advice.
