British Values

In our school we teach children to be respectful of each other and we believe that by learning about the differences and beliefs of others we will develop a greater understanding and tolerance. Our one word school rule match this aim. We expect the theme of RESPECT to underpin all aspects of life in school and is one of our fundamental British Values.

The government set out its definition of 'British values' in its Prevent Strategy and these values have been reiterated by the Prime Minister this academic year. We reinforce these regularly and in the following ways:

Democracy: Democracy is rife in our schools! Pupils have their voices heard through our School Council and Pupil questionnaires. We elect House Captains, our School Council, as well as vote on 'Charity for the Year'.

The Rule of Law: The importance of Law, i.e. those that govern the class, the school, or the country, are consistently reinforced, as well as when dealing with behaviour and through school assemblies. Pupils are taught the value and reasons behind laws that govern and protect us, responsibilities this involves and the consequences when laws are broken. Visits from authorities such as the Police; Fire Service; Lifeguards etc. are regular parts of our calendar. Pupil are regularly rewarded for great behaviour with stars, certificates 'postcards home' etc etc

Individual Liberty: Our pupils are actively encouraged to make choices, knowing that they are in a safe environment

Tolerance: Pupils learn about everyone's right to their opinion, even if we don't always agree. We promote this through discussion and through conflict resolution. Pupils are taught how to manage situations where both parties have differing viewpoints.

Mutual Respect: Through our programmes of RE and PSHE, pupils learn about other people and their beliefs. It is important that pupils understand that we are all different and that is what makes our country great. Respect for all underpins all of our work in school and that has been recognised by countless visitors into school. The care demonstrated for each other is apparent in every facet of school life.

In our community, it is vital that these essential British Values are promoted and not undermined. At school, we will continue to develop aspects of these key skills in all that we do.

Digital Den making a difference

This week children from Wood End primary school joined children from around the globe to take part in activities linked to Safer Internet Day 2018. In a time when our children have unprecedented access to the internet it is more important than ever that we give them the skills and knowledge to be safe online. Our digital leaders have been busy this week, spreading their messages and supporting children with their digital worries in the digital den during lunchtime. This week also saw the launch of a competition to design a logo and a slogan for the digital leaders. I look forward to seeing all the entries after half term and helping the leaders to choose a winner. The winning entry will be made into a badge for the digital leaders to wear. Thank you to all the digital leaders who have given up their time to keep our children safe online.
