

Empowering Leadership: Influencing through Coaching Programme 2019-2020

The best leaders need to empower others to get the most out of them. Our approach to coaching is practical, concerned with actual behaviour and real impact on others. What matters to us is to help people make step changes in their leadership behaviour.

1. Help leaders self-assess and develop their foundation skills in leadership
2. Equip leaders with a language and methods for managing people that are aimed at empowering and motivating their staff
3. Help leaders know themselves better and understand their strengths and their areas for development as a leader
4. Help leaders have a range of strategies to deploy when managing staff individually and as a group

Designed and led by Nick Zienau, an experienced and highly effective coach and trainer
