Wonderful World Book Day -

What a week we have had!

An ENORMOUS thankyou to all who donated 2nd hand books for our book sale on Thursday.

I think it is fair to say - the book sale was a great success raising not only £240.44 for school funds but also raising the profile of reading as well. It was great to see pupils of all ages getting excited about books and sharing recommendations. The Year 6 pupils and staff did a fantastic job - well done to all. Another thank you must also go to the children (and their parents) for putting so much effort into their World Book Day fancy dress costumes. Thank you to 'Cornish Jack', Mike O'Conner and Clive Pig for their contributions to the week as well.

COMIC RELIEF

Comic Relief – Fri 15th March

The school Council have just agreed the following as a fundraiser for Comic Relief. They want it low key this year as they have the 2 charities to focus on this year (Cancer Research and Born to be Wild)

- 1) Non School Uniform
- 2) Joke Telling Marathon
- 3) Red Nose playground Tattoo

School Council do not want to encourage everyone to buy red noses in Sainsburys or any red nose merchandise as they are more or less single use plastic and can be avoided. Instead they want to paint a red noses on every child who wants one instead. This will be part of the £1 suggested donation to cover wearing non uniform. Thank you for your support with this.

Attendance

The figures below are generated by the average attendance over the year so far.

Unfortunately the both schools are showing that the overall attendance for the year so far is less than our targeted 96%. Whole school INFS – 95.8% Whole school JNRS – 94.9%

Best class attendance this week (INFS) – Rowan 99.1% Best class attendance this week (JNRS) – Wanson 96.8%

Letters will be going home shortly to parents of pupils whose attendance is particularly poor asking them to attend an 'Attendance Clinic'. As a school, we are under immense pressure to improve our attendance and so your co-operation and consideration when booking holidays etc. during school time would be appreciated.
