

Reading Success in Year 5

I use the words and word parts that I can read and understand already to think about what new words mean and sound like.	I continue to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books as well as text books.	I understand what I read, even though books are set out in different ways and are written for different purposes.	I am becoming familiar with a wide range of books from our own literary heritage and also books from other cultures and traditions.	I like to recommend books I have read to my friends.	I am able to identify and discuss themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing.
	I can make comparisons within and across books I have read.	I have learnt a wider range of poems by heart.	I am able to read aloud and perform poems and plays, and use appropriate intonation, tone and volume to help the audience with their own understanding.	I check my understanding of books I have read through discussion and exploring the meaning of words.	I can ask questions about what I have read to further improve my understanding.
I show my understanding of what I have read by drawing inferences from within the text and justifying them with evidence.	From my reading, I can predict what may happen in a story from details given and suggested in the text.	I am able to identify key details and ideas in texts by summarising a given number of paragraphs I have read.	I can show how language, structure and presentation all contribute to meaning in texts I read.	I know authors use particular language which will have impact on me, the reader.	I can distinguish between statements of fact and opinion.
	I can retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction.	I participate in discussions about books I have read, or those that have been read to me by listening to others' ideas and at times challenging views courteously if they differ from my own.	I can present or debate on topics I have read about, using notes if necessary.	I am able to justify my views.
