Dear Parents,

As you will know, there have been updates in government guidance for the general public from Monday 17th May. Schools have received some changes but they are more limited due to the size of the community we serve. Children have heard the news of updates and have talked about how excited they are about being able to hug again, sadly this will not be possible in school. Guidance remains that physical contact should remain at a minimum.

We are currently updating the risk assessment in line with current guidance, and this will be available on the school website once approved by governors. We will continue to update you as any adjustments are made. We really appreciate your continued support.

Yet again it has been a fantastic week of work. Badger class have produced some fantastic work using a green screen in computing this week. I am sure they will be really keen to show their families on Tapestry later! While you are on there, take a look at the lovely book Jazz has recommended. This is me is a must for dog lovers this week, thank you for introducing us to Nemo Jake. Before you even read the content I know that you will be impressed by the presentation from our writers this week.

Special Awards this week:

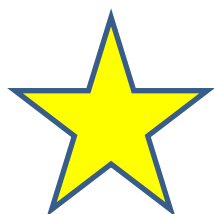

Hedgehog Class

Nathan for always working hard and setting a good example. Also for sharing super ideas with the class.

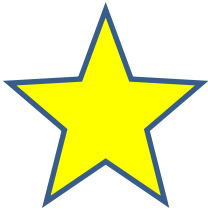

Squirrel Class

Eddie for working hard all week, especially with his art.

Badger Class

George for making extraordinary progress in his writing.

Fox Class

Jake for his maturity and kindness towards another child.

Writer of the Week

Hedgehog Class

Lucy for thinking really carefully about her word choices when writing her story about 'When the Crayons Quit.' Lucy's handwriting is always very impressive too.

Badger Class

Erin for really listening to the idea of creating then and now statements by using contrasting conjunctions.

Well done all of you for your fantastic work!

Mia has been chosen for 'This is Me' for next week and Alannah for Book of the Week. We really look forward to seeing what they have to share.

Last reminder! If you would like to join us at the Friends AGM please let us know so that we can share the link for the meeting.

Lost Property

We are starting to gather clothes in lost property again. There are brand new jumpers without names. Please do make sure all clothes are named so we can return them. Some people are also missing uniform that doesn't appear to be in school, if your child brings home someone else's clothes please let us know and return them as soon as possible.

Best wishes,

Jennie Müller
