

Thursday 21st May 2020 - Why Are Memories Important?

Consider what The Alchemist's Letter teaches us about the importance of memories. Add some ideas to the table below. Now think about what life would be like if we couldn't store our memories and use this to help you add further ideas. See the ideas at the bottom of the page to help you too.

1	Memories are important because they give us a sense of identity. In other words, they make us who we are and help us to understand ourselves.
2
3
4
5
6
7
8

-help us to make better choices -learning and developing

-brings alive people we have lost -connects us with others -bring us joy

WRITING FOCUS: My Most Valuable Memory

Describe, in detail, one of your most valuable memories. Can you use any of the descriptive devices (from the setting description work yesterday) to bring it to life? Work in your home learning book and use the key below (same one as yesterday) to help you. Can you colour code the descriptive devices in your writing using the key?

Single word sentence

Simile

Metaphor

Alliteration

Personification

