

To all the children at West Jesmond Primary School.

We are writing to see how you all are - we are missing being in school and seeing you each day. We hope you have been enjoying the activities that have been put on the school website by your year group teachers. We have liked looking at the school Facebook page and seeing the activities that you are doing with your families, and we've also loved reading your fabulous book reviews. We have enjoyed spending time at home cooking, reading our favourite books and doing art projects.

Next week, as the Muslim community have now entered the month of Ramadan, you may like to investigate what Ramadan is and how it is celebrated by Muslims. BBC Bitesize has some good information on Ramadan, and CBBC newsround show a family discussing what's it like to fast during Ramadan.

As an art project, we thought it might be interesting for you to draw or paint a picture titled, "A view from a window." It could be what you can see from one of the windows in your house, or you could use your imagination and pretend that you are on an aeroplane and about to take off or land in a different country- what is it you can see? Or you could be looking out of the window of a castle- what exciting things can you see happening? It would be lovely to see some examples of these on the school Facebook page.

We hope you are staying safe and well.

From Mrs Kennett, Mrs Adair, Mrs Trench and Mrs McCubbin
