Together We Grow in Wisdom and Serve with Joy

Dear parents/carers,

Unbelievably we are already half way through Spring Term. Thrushel have received the most Dojo points every week so far so we will speak to them about a special acknowledgement of this achievement.

Brentor have shown amazing resilience this week during their Bikeability and have shown that they can be responsible and driven learners despite difficult conditions! They didn't moan about the cold or wet weather once and were an absolute credit to our school, well done to everyone who took part.

Hopefully you have all been able to take a look at our new website, the class pages will keep you informed of your child's learning. We have included all of the important information that you may need and we hope that you find it user friendly, we welcome your feedback.

As a school, we discussed internet safety as Wednesday was Internet Safety Day, the pupils were very knowledgeable.

We hope you have a restful half term break and look forward to seeing you on Monday 24th February.

Miss Davy

School Improvement:

Science: This week we have been monitoring science across the school, led by Mrs Sutherland. We were able to visit classes to see science learning and speak to the pupils. Explorify is well underway and both staff and pupils are really enjoying this. Please try to ensure that your child is at school for 9am so that they do not miss their morning activities. If you have an interest in science or it is an area of expertise, please let us know as we are looking to grow our "Science Capital".

Maths: Mr Elliott also led monitoring of maths across the school where we visited lessons, looked at books and spoke to pupils about their learning in maths. We were so impressed by the knowledge, skills and attitudes of pupils across the whole school who were confident to discuss their learning in this subject. It would be really useful for us to gather your child's responses to maths via the survey Monkey link that Mr Elliott has put on Class Dojo, thank you.

Phonics and reading: Mrs Abbott-Bray has completed assessments in phonics and reading and we have been very impressed with the huge progress made across the school. Thank you for your support in listening to your child read and your feedback that helps us continue to improve. Mr Payton and his class will be taking part in a research project ran by the EEF. More information to follow, please see Class Dojo.

Enrichment: Brentor will be going on their first trip after half term and Mr Payton has also planned a trip to the Eden Project for Summer Term. He has an exciting enterprise challenge that we will launch after half term.

Mrs Thorp has attended a three-day First Aid training course this week.

Uniform Sale: Last few bits available at drastically reduced prices! Please check school money for availability.

MORE INFORMATION BELOW

Toddler Group – Toddlers will return on the week of the 24th February with Pancake Making!! For more information please see the website/Facebook page or ask Justine for the activities list for the rest of the term. This is a lovely group of parents and toddlers/babies, which meet on Mondays mornings (9am-11am) and Thursday morning (9am-11am) during term time with the fantastic Justine, with a love of messy play, it is usually a good idea to Wrap around care. This is now available to book via schoolmoney. All bookings for breakfast club and wrap around care need to be made in advance as much as possible as this helps us plan staff ratios needed. It also helps us order the correct amount of food to minimise waste and make sure everyone is well fed.

Please note that children need to be collected from Yes Tor (the pre-school classroom) – you will need to access via the wooden side gate, please ring the doorbell on the gate when you arrive. It is quite dark at the moment along the alley way, please be careful.

Tavy13

You may have seen on Dojo before Christmas that the Tavy13 is fast approaching. This is a great opportunity for the children to take part in an organised running event. They will run 1 to 1.5 miles each week in the run up to the main event in Tavistock on Sunday 29th March. If your child is interested in taking part, please collect an entry form from the school office. Running club on Fridays after school will work to complete these miles.

There is no pressure to dress up but if your child would like to then they can dress us as a word, for example for the word "illuminate" they could wear a set of fairy lights. If they don't want to dress up they don't need to, uniform is fine.

In the afternoon we will be looking at the books of Michael Morpurgo and writing letters to him.

We are also hoping to record some stories for our own Bedtime Story programme, more details to follow.

In pre-school and toddlers we would like the children to bring their favourite book.

If your child is not in school by 9.30am, and we have not received a message, they could be registered as late, and this will affect their attendance * Wet Weather Coats - please ask that all children come to school with appropriate outdoor clothing – water proof coats for all children please, and wellies for Yes Tor. * Comments for Governors - If you have any comments or suggestions for the school Governors these can be placed in the red box outside of the office

School attendance and absence

Going to school regularly is important for your child's future. Parents are responsible for making sure their children receive full-time education. Parents are legally responsible for making sure that children attend school. If your child doesn't go to school, you could get fined or prosecuted.

Benefits of school attendance

Good attendance at school is not just beneficial, it's essential. Attending school is directly linked to improved exam performance which should in turn lead to further learning opportunities and better job prospects. As well as this, going to school helps to develop:

- Friendships
- Social skills
- Team values
- Life skills
- Cultural awareness
- Career pathways

Absence from school

- All schools must record details of pupils' attendance and absence at school. They do this at the beginning of morning and afternoon sessions meaning that each day your child receives two half day marks.
- If your child is going to be absent from school, (e.g. for an unavoidable appointment) then you should let the school know as soon as possible. If your child has been absent due to an unexpected event such as bereavement or illness then you must also let the school know on the first day of absence in accordance with the school's attendance policy.
- The school will then record the absence. If you fail to notify the school as to why your child has not been present then the school may record that period of absence as being unauthorised.
- The Education Welfare Service (EWS) has access to all attendance information for each pupil and if your child is missing school without good reason, schools and the EA have the authority to find out why.

Attendance in figures

- Schools will advise parents of a child's attendance levels at least once a year. This will usually include a percentage attendance figure.
- Achieving 90 per cent in an exam or test is a fantastic result but if your child is at school for only 90 per cent of the school year then they will have missed 19 days - almost four whole weeks of school.
- For primary-age children, this can mean almost 120 guided learning hours. This is a big gap for any child to make up.
- If your child is a pupil at post-primary school, 120 guided learning hours is the equivalent of studying one full-time GCSE (normally taken over two years).

How to prevent your child from missing school

You can help prevent your child missing school by:

- having a routine from an early age and sticking it to it
- making sure your child understands the importance of good attendance and punctuality
- making sure they understand the possible implications for themselves and you as a parent if they don't attend
- taking an interest in their education - ask about school work and encourage them to get involved in school activities
- discussing any problems they may have at school and letting their teacher or Head Teacher know about anything that is causing concern
- not letting them take time off school for minor ailments or holidays during term time

To avoid disrupting your child's education, you should arrange (as far as possible), appointments and outings:

- after school hours

- at weekends
- during school holidays

Term time holidays

Term time holidays have been increasing over the last number of years. Parents should make every effort to ensure that their child does not miss school due to holiday plans. Schools are not obliged to agree to you taking your child on holiday during term time. They are entitled to record such holidays as being an unauthorised absence

Support for parents

As a parent, if you find it hard to talk to your child about their attendance at school or other school-related matters, support is available.

Support from your child's school

Your child's school should have an attendance policy in place and made available to you, normally from the school website. As a parent or guardian, you should ensure that you adhere to the guidance provided in that policy regarding attendance and notifying absence.

Your child's school is the first place to discuss any attendance problems. The school should try to agree a plan with you to improve your child's attendance.

A school can refer your child to the Education Welfare Service (EWS) if they feel there is reason to be concerned at their level of attendance. The EWS is a specialist education support service which helps young people of a compulsory school age and their families to get the best out of the education system. The EWS can offer advice and support to help you and your child to have good attendance at school

Support from the Education Authority

The Education Authority (EA) can also help if you are struggling to make sure that your child goes to school

Support from other organisations

As well as school and the EA, you may also be able to get advice and assistance from other organisations. These may include your local community centre or local community group. ParentingNI provide a wide range of helpful advice and resources as well as a parent's helpline.

Parent Teacher Associations can also provide further information and resources through their website at ParentKind.
