Initially, this support is provided by school staff with the relevant training and expertise. Further specialist advice is requested when necessary. Proven effective relationships with a wide range of support services which includes Sensory Support, Educational Psychologist, Literacy Support, speech, language and communication and behaviour support teams. Regular planned meetings between staff and stakeholders support pupil progress and outcomes.
EVALUATION EFFECTIVENESS OF PROVISION	As we are a small school, where most staff know each child well the effectiveness of interventions can also be measured through; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● discussions with staff and pupils, ● observations of behaviour and attitudes to school work ● evidence of pupil progress in books Children are regularly assessed and their progress is tracked not only against interventions but also as part of the whole class If after a review of a specific intervention, it is felt to be ineffective the intervention will be stopped. The SENDCo in conjunction with class teachers and the head teacher will then consider other interventions to focus on the identified needs of a pupil or a group of pupils. Daily breakfast club runs 8:00 - 8:45 After school clubs are available - school run clubs can vary from term to term. We also offer child care provision on Monday - Friday 3:30 - 5:30
HOW WILL WE MEASURE THE PROGRESS OF YOUR CHILD	Your child's progress is continually monitored by his/her class teacher. His/her progress is reviewed formally to inform our assessment tracking. At the end of each key stage (i.e. the end of Year 2 and year 6) all children are required to be formally assessed using Standard Assessment Tests (SAT's). The government requires all schools to do this and the results are published nationally. Progress in interventions will be reviewed every term. The progress of children with an EHCP is formally reviewed at an Annual Review meeting

	Input from Therapists/Advisory Teachers/other specialist support services To access support from specialist services, school make referrals to the Central Hub. Hub panel meetings are held every fortnight. Referrals are discussed by a panel of professionals and a decision is made as to which support service will pick each referral up. School and parents are then informed, and arrangements are then made as to how to proceed. At Ringway we have built up a very good relationship with our colleagues within SEND Support Services. SEND Support Services offer specialist advice and support for schools, pupils and their families. Specialists include; inclusion support workers, behaviour support workers, educational psychologists, education welfare officers, and specialist teachers for autistic spectrum disorder and provide access to occupational therapists. They offer a first point of contact for schools for a wide range of issues. Once a referral is received from school, they usually begin their involvement by meeting with and listening to the child and their family. Health support services available include; access to speech and language therapists (SALT), school health advisors, occupational therapists, health visitors and the children’s and young people’s service (CYPS). Speech and language therapists visit school each term to carry out assessments, provide individual speech and language plans, provide resources and review each student’s progress. Parents can meet with the therapist involved with their child to discuss progress, next steps and what they can do to support their child at home. Children’s services provide support for social welfare including access to social workers and family support workers. Social workers are often invited into school to attend Team Around the Family meetings alongside other professionals so that the relevant support can be directed where it is needed.
INCLUSION	All children have inclusive access to all activities and educational visits. Lessons are as inclusive as possible with adjustments made on a needs basis. Teachers are responsible for the learning and progress for all children in their class, regardless of need. Children are only withdrawn from the whole class activities when it is in their best interest to do so.

We either contact the family via a telephone conversation or by setting up a meeting to listen to parent's views. From this point we work closely with the family to discuss and work towards a resolution. We place emphasis on working with parents in this way, as we feel that this fully involves parents in the journey of their child through school. Formals parents' evenings are held during the Autumn and Spring term. During the Summer term a written report is provided with the opportunity to meet with the class teacher if required. Class Dojo is used support communication between home and school.
