

Plan your own new humanoid creature which is half human and half animal (your choice). Use the ideas about Mr Tumnus to help you. Plan one day and write the nonchronological report the next day.

	Mr Tumnus	New creature
Title (Often in the form of a question)	Can Fauns really be Trusted?
An opening statement (Often a general classification sometimes followed by a more detailed or technical classification.)	The faun is a mythical half human– half goat creature. These bipedal creatures were symbols of peace.
Appearance	Fauns have the legs and tail of a goat and the head, torso, and arms of a man, and are often depicted with goat's horns and pointed ears.
Clothing/accessories	Red scarf, umbrella and brown-paper parcels. Plays the flute.
Dwelling	A cave inside a rock. Wood fire. Dresser, table, chairs, bookshelf.
Secret occupation	A kidnapper for the White Witch.
Trustworthiness	Mr Tumnus ultimately is trustworthy. He risks his life to save Lucy.

Once you have planned your creature, you can write a non-chronological report about them. The words/phrases on the left can be the subheadings for the different sections. Remember to write in the present tense in the third person. Can you use any expanded noun phrases?
