Well done, everyone. We are still above the government’s target of 96%. However, we have actually dropped a little this term by 0.1% and are therefore further away from our own school target of 97%. This next term I want us all to make even more of a conscience effort to only keep children off school if they are actually ill or contagious. A cough, runny nose or ‘sore bones’ are not reasons for children to be absent.

Head Lice

I am aware that some of our families have been keeping their children off school due to head lice. I need to remind all families that head lice is not a reason for children not to attend school. If you have noticed that your child has head lice, please treat them at home and then send them into school. Head lice is not a reflection of the cleanliness of a child and I have had to treat my own children on a number of occasions, without them missing any school. Absences due to head lice will be recorded as unauthorised.

Punctuality

There has been a remarked improvement in some children’s punctuality this half term, well done. Don’t forget:

School Gates Open: 8:45am

Children in Class Learning: 8:50am

Children Recorded as Late : After 8:55am

Children Recorded as Absent: After 9:20am

Today you should also receive your child’s coloured attendance slip. Don’t forget that the colour represents their attendance for this half term. Green 97% and above, Amber 96.9% - 94%, Red –94%.
