

Cury Church of England VA Primary School
Our 'Local Offer' for Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND)

At Cury C of E VA Primary School is a welcoming family environment which nurtures each individual to achieve through the Christian faith, to be the best they can be on life's journey. This is achieved through quality first teaching, the calm nurturing environment and through the clear and consistent approach that resonates throughout the school. The individual needs of all our children are the central focus, providing stimulating and exciting learning opportunities for all.

We are sensitive to the varied individual needs of pupils and we use a flexible, graduated approach to support specific needs and differing abilities. We endeavour to promote collaboration between school, parents and other agencies in order to meet individual needs in an inclusive, organised, robust and carefully considered manner. We aim to ensure that pupils are provided for, and targeted support is given to enable pupils to fully access the curriculum effectively. We promote independent skills and support pupils to take the next steps in their learning journey.

Answers to Frequently asked Questions

How does your school know if children need extra help?
Teachers are continually monitoring and assessing your child's progress – academically, physically, behaviourally and emotionally. Through this rigorous assessment process, teachers identify gaps in children's learning and plan for pupils to receive extra support in the classroom. This may be through differentiated activities or additional adult support. Teachers talk regularly to parents and request your support in the home environment to try and overcome barriers to learning.
What should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?
It is important that you communicate effectively with the school and discuss your concerns. Talk to your child's class teacher in the first instance, who will inform the SENCo of your concern and take appropriate action where necessary. This may be an observation in the first instance and ensuring resources and differentiation is in place to support your child. An Individual Provision Map and an Assess, Plan, Do, Review document may then be created to support your child's learning in school. This will be regularly reviewed and discussed with the child and the parents. In some instances, the SENCo may request advice, with your permission, from other external agencies who may feel it appropriate to assess your child's needs.
Who is responsible for the progress and success of my child in school?
The Headteacher works with the staff to ensure pupil targets are being met and that children are being challenged appropriately. The Senior Leadership

Team analyse data and monitor teaching and learning to ensure teachers are meeting the needs of the pupils.

How will the curriculum be matched to my child's needs?

The school works hard to provide a broad and balanced curriculum which is topic based throughout the school. In all subjects, planning is differentiated to match the learning needs of the pupils, support and challenge being provided.

We incorporate different styles of teaching and learning to accommodate all children and engage them in the learning. We also host 'topic days' which allow the children to immerse themselves in the learning.

How will school staff support my child?

At Cury we strongly believe in promoting independence, and through our support we endeavour to build confidence in your child's learning. Support may be through differentiated activities, working with a learning buddy, adult support or written step by step instructions so your child knows what to do.

There are also intervention groups where children may receive additional support for spelling, handwriting or social skills, for example. We also utilise ICT by providing maths and literacy programs the children have access to. Pupils are aware that they can talk to any member of staff about anything.

How will I know how my child is doing and how will you help me to support my child's learning?

Staff regularly talk with parents before/after school so there is opportunity for parents to request a meeting to discuss progress if they wish to, in line with our open door policy. Where a teacher feels there is a concern, parents are asked to come in and discuss the issue. Advice on how to provide extra support at home is given. In the past, where requests for how to help with, for example, phonics and reading have been made, we have set up meeting to support parents in understanding what we do in school and how they can help at home.

Each term there is a formal parent/teacher meeting to discuss your child's progress and attainment, and at the end of the academic year a written report is sent home.

What support will there be for my child's overall wellbeing?

Children's' well-being and emotional health is recognised at Cury as being an important aspect of their academic progress. We endeavour to provide personalised learning journeys where children can succeed at their own ability level.

We celebrate every child's abilities through the use of the school's Christian Values. All children are included in this reward system. Each week we hold a Celebration assembly where staff recognise progress in pupils and certificates are awarded from both school and outside achievements.

How do I know that my child is safe in school?

All staff have had relevant and up to date Safeguarding training. Staff follow procedures outlined in the safeguarding policy and the designated governor is responsible for ensuring statutory guidance is met.

There are regular fire alarm check and practice drills so pupils know what to do in an emergency.

There are always several members of staff who have undergone the 'First Aid in the Workplace' training. The school keeps a record of who has received the training and when they qualified, to ensure training is always current.

Cury School carries out risk assessments for all school trips: these are monitored by the Headteacher. Teachers are responsible for ensuring risk assessments are carried out and they follow the school trip 'planning procedure' to ensure all aspects of the school trip have been addressed.

The Health and Safety Governor, together with the school caretaker and secretary carry out regular health and safe assessments of the school site.

The school holds personal details of all children. This is all kept in accordance with GDPR. This information contains contact details for parents/carers and the next of kin. Parents are asked to inform the school if there are any changes. This ensures parents/carers can be contacted at anytime of the school day, allowing us to notify them of changes to the school day e.g. school closure due to severe weather.

The school site is secure. The front door is glass and therefore members of staff can see who it is before letting them in as well as having a visual intercom system in the office.

All staff have identity badges and visitors and governors are issued badges when in school.

What SEN training have the staff at school had or are having?

We have an experienced SENDCo. Teachers and Teaching Assistants attend relevant courses to support the children they are working with. This information is then shared with the rest of the staff at staff meetings.

How accessible is the school environment?

See the Accessibility Plan. This is available on the school website.

How are the school's resources allocated and matched to children's special educational needs?

We take a whole school approach to providing the resources every child needs for their learning, regardless of their ability. The class teacher is supported by a Teaching Assistant and extra interventions, led by experienced Teaching Assistants, is provided for small groups of pupils. Classroom resources are shared and additional resources are purchased where necessary to enhance learning.

How is the decision made about what type and how much support my child will receive?

Decisions about the support each child receives are based on the school's in-depth knowledge of the child. Lengthy discussions between relevant staff members take place and the child's progress is monitored. The support may change as the needs of the child change. Staff listen to parent/carer views and advice from outside agencies.

What should I do if I feel that the School Offer is not being delivered or is not meeting my child's needs?

Parents/carers who believe their child's needs are not being met are asked to:

1. Meet with the class teacher to raise your concerns.
2. Talk with the SENCo to address the issue or concern.
3. Address the issue or concern with the Headteacher – appointments can be made.

Where parents/carers feel the issue or concern has not been addressed, they are asked to contact the Chair of Governors.

The school has a complaints policy which can be found on the school website.

How is your School Offer reviewed?

The School Offer will be formally reviewed by the Governing Board in consultation with the Senior Leadership Team, at least once every 3 years. However, the Senior Leadership Team will monitor and review the School Offer throughout the academic year, amending appropriately in consultation with the Governing Board.
