Reading Rewards

Whilst we are eagerly awaiting the next tea party for the reading reward scheme, please see the questions for reading with your child this week below:

Who would you like to meet in this story and why?

What does the word...imply about...?

What questions would you ask this character?

VERY IMPORTANT MESSAGE RE SNAPCHAT

Earlier this week Snap Chat updated their social media app to include a maps feature, called Snap Maps, that enables other people to see exactly where you are and what you're doing. They claim that 'Only the people you choose can see your location', 'By changing your location setting to Ghost Mode, your location won't be visible to anyone else on the Map' BUT – WARNING 'Snaps you submit to Our Story can still show up on the Map, regardless of the location setting you choose!'

This was an automatic update and many young people with smart phones who use this app may not even realise that the function is revealing where they are and what they're doing. It's important that all adults and carers are made aware of this so they talk to their children about the safeguarding dangers this presents to them and their friends.

Annual Reports

You should have received your child's annual report today, in a sealed envelope, alongside some other documents that we would be grateful if you could fill in and return to the school office as soon as possible. We would be grateful if you could send the report receipt, parent and child questionnaires, acceptable use policy and the consent form for 2017-2018 back to the office by Friday 21st July. We hope you enjoy reading your child's report and are pleased with their achievements.

Home Visits

We have thoroughly enjoyed our visits to the homes of our new intake children for September over the last few days. Edith, Caitlin, Morley, Megan, Amy and Locryn (poor Florence was unwell on the day) welcomed us into their homes and showed us lots of skills and their knowledge - even their bedrooms and magic wands! We look forward to seeing them again, at Learning Together next week for the last time before they start 'big school'.
