Zoe age 4 says "she likes Sunday school because she wants to learn about Jesus and do lots of colouring"

I have been going to Sunday school for the last seven years. I wouldn't have been going that long if it wasn't enjoyable. It has always been my choice to spend Sundays with good friends. I would recommend it because it's how children get involved with worship and the community.
Aleca age 11

In Sunday school we make great friends. And have fun while learning about God, Jesus and other things in the Bible.... On special times in the year we do child friendly services like Messy church or Sunday school go and perform something. We do something different every week and make it as fun as possible. Sunday school is great for children of all ages.
