5th January 2018

Dear Parents/Carers,

Happy New Year! Hopefully your Christmas was a relaxing and fun filled event and all your little darlings received their hearts' desire. To be honest, after all that I have eaten this holiday, I am actually rather pleased to be returning to school in a bid to curb my gluttony. Bearing more than a passing resemblance to a barrage balloon, something has to give.

Well, what shall I tell you about this fun packed week of ours... er, not much to be fair. The majority of each newsletter is written on Thursday evening and as we have only had the one day back so far, there is precious little to say. One thing that was particularly noticeable on the first morning was how much good the break has done everyone. The difference in the children between the end of last term (I'm pretty sure a couple of Reception children actually fell asleep in their Christmas lunch) and Thursday was like night and day. They all came back looking bright eyed and bushy tailed and were actually working hard! Maybe I should give them all a holiday more often – what do you mean you've just got shot of them and don't want them back?

Obviously, at the start of a new year thoughts tend to drift towards resolutions and starting off on the right foot. Please, when there is a quiet moment, do talk to your children about what they need to do to move their work forward and achieve their goals over the next 12 months. We talk a lot about how practice, a positive outlook, listening to advice and perseverance are the key ingredients to achieving success. If this message can be reinforced at home, it will make such a difference to their self-belief.

Have a lovely weekend. Play safely and take care. I am off to be measured for a bigger suit!

Lost Coat

Please have a look at home for a navy Regatta boy's coat. It is named and size 9 ish... It is waterproof with a packaway hood. This coat went missing at the end of last term, if you find it please hand it in at the school office.

Coming up next week:

Tuesday - Year 3 & 4 swimming

Friday - Multi Academy Trust - Parent Consultation meeting at 3.20pm in the school hall.

Book Review—Phoebe T

'Ottoline and the Yellow cat' by Chris Riddell.

'Ottoline and the Yellow cat' is about a girl called Ottoline and her trusty friend Mr Munroe who find a bear in the laundry room. Ottoline makes a plan to catch someone who is stealing dogs and jewels. It is really enjoyable to read and it has a picture on every page that each make up a part of the story.
