Dr Niamh Fox from the Institute of Manufacturing at Cambridge University visited school this week to meet the entrants to our science competition. She spent time with each child, discussing their re- search, and was extremely impressed with what she saw and heard. Dr Fox talked to the children about her time at school and encouraged them to view plastic as a positive resource, but to recycle when- ever possible.

Our philosophy focus for you to grapple with at home is “Do animals have the right not to become extinct?” We hope you enjoy your discussions around the breakfast table!

We are looking forward to seeing everyone at the Taste of Thriplow area at 11.15am on Saturday so that we can all make a difference at Daffodil Weekend.

Best wishes,
Victoria Penty

As the hall will be being made ready for Daffodil Weekend on Friday afternoon there will be no Celebration Assembly this week.

'Buy a Brick' Stall at Daffodil Weekend

The PTA are launching a 'Buy a Brick' campaign to help fund the Cornerstone Classroom Project.

More information will be coming out to you shortly but in the meantime please sign up to help us run the stall at this year's Daffodil Weekend. The rota is up in the playground next to the tearoom rota and is also on the PTA Facebook page.

We need two adults for each time slot on both days to work alongside year 6 students raising the profile of the project and selling bricks.

Please help us to kick this campaign off!
