

Step 2: 'I' or 'Me'

Both 'I' and 'me' are pronouns but we use them differently.

'I' should be used when the person speaking is doing the action either on their own or with someone else.

The captains of the team are Sammy and I.

'Me' should be used when the person speaking is receiving the action of the verb in some way.

My brother Johnny wouldn't pass the game to me.

Varied Fluency 1

True or false? The sentence below is written using standard English.

Even though we are opposites, Harry and me often get along.

Varied Fluency 1

True or false? The sentence below is written using standard English.

Even though we are opposites, Harry and me often get along.

False; it should be 'Harry and I'.

Varied Fluency 2

Read the passage below. Underline the sentence which has not used standard English.

Theresa and I had been asked to measure the length of the playground with a trundle wheel. I felt very special to be chosen for this important task. After her turn, Theresa passed the trundle wheel to I. I was certain to walk in a straight line to make our results accurate.

Varied Fluency 2

Read the passage below. Underline the sentence which has not used standard English.

Theresa and I had been asked to measure the length of the playground with a trundle wheel. I felt very special to be chosen for this important task. After her turn, Theresa passed the trundle wheel to I. I was certain to walk in a straight line to make our results accurate.

Varied Fluency 3

Fill in the sentence using the correct pronoun: 'I' or 'me'.

“Exercise is very important,” the doctor told Sarah and ___ at our appointment last week.

Varied Fluency 3

Fill in the sentence using the correct pronoun: 'I' or 'me'.

“Exercise is very important,” the doctor told Sarah and me at our appointment last week.

Varied Fluency 4

Tick the sentences which are written in standard English.

A. "Have you had enough to eat?" she asked me.

B. The guide and me wandered around the museum, discussing history at great length.

C. Jeremy and I couldn't remember the first time we met.

D. How would you describe my cousin and I?

Varied Fluency 4

Tick the sentences which are written in standard English.

A. "Have you had enough to eat?" she asked me.

B. The guide and me wandered around the museum, discussing history at great length.

C. Jeremy and I couldn't remember the first time we met.

D. How would you describe my cousin and I?