Autumn Term Issue 3

Dear Parent/Carer

We are all looking forward to meeting with you next week to discuss your child. Hopefully you will get the chance to look in their school books too as there is already a wide range of exciting curriculum learning building up. Everything from independent literacy pieces to geographical or scientific research.

Your child's class teacher will also be handing out a form that we kindly ask everyone to fill out. The government have an initiative called Pupil Premium, which provides the school with extra funding - it would be great if we could check your illegibility by completing this form. All we need is your national insurance number and we can complete the online check on your behalf. On numerous occasions over the years, lots of families that I have worked with have unearthed additional funding that they were blissfully unaware they were entitled to. In particular, this happened where there has been a change in family circumstances or a change in employment. Thank you in advance for taking the time to fill these forms out - they really do make a difference.

I hope you all have a lovely weekend and let us hope that it stops raining sometime soon too.

Have a great weekend
Kieran Walsh

Reading

At Lanner, we are keen for all of our children to develop a love of reading for life. Reading is a superpower. One that can take your children anywhere and help their imaginations to thrive. But we know that encouraging children to pick up a book isn't always easy. Helping your child to develop an interest in books before they even start at school is one way of putting them on the path to becoming a Superhero Reader! This autumn, the Cornwall Library Services have launched their 'Real Heroes Read' events, aimed at getting children hooked on books.

The poster below gives details of some events for younger children. Even if you can't make the dates listed, why not pay a visit to your local library and give your children a flying start to their reading!
