Summer Term Issue 03

Dear Parent/Carers

I hope you are all well and safe. A couple of things to mention this week, but first, the usual COVID update.

COVID 19 - The government's road map appears to be on track as we head towards further easing of restrictions. We are not sure what this will bring for school life as the existing guidance is still in place. I shall of course inform you of any changes, but for now, it is 'normal' restrictions and precautions as usual. No other real news to give you re COVID.

Learning Powers: At Lanner School, we really pride ourselves on being great learners. This week, we have had a relaunch of our 'Learning Powers' and Miss Kenchington has been delivering some refresher staff training. We want children to be motivated, engaged and great thinkers. Please ask your child about this when they get home - ask them if they got a sticker (see below), and feel free to have a look at our website. PUPILS AND LEARNING - Characteristics of Effective Learning.

PSHE: You will shortly be receiving a letter from myself, outlining some of the changes that are taking place in PSHE. This includes information regarding RSE (relationship and sex education).

All of this information will be uploaded onto the website, but if you do have any questions regarding this area, please do ask. And that is from me this week. I hope you have a wonderful weekend and we look forward to seeing you on Monday.

Kind regards
Kieran Walsh, Head Teacher

CORNWALL MUSIC SERVICE TRUST

Ethos and Vision

To provide the highest quality music education that supports the aspirations of all children and young people Cornwall Music Service Trust believes in equality of access, allowing the natural excellence through sustained development and progress. We aim to provide a wide range of musical experiences and opportunities, all of which offers our students the benefit and satisfaction of their own and others' achievements.

What CMST offers

Our qualified and skilled staff offer high quality instrumental, vocal and composition tuition at all levels in a variety of educational settings, our teaching encompasses all styles and genres, and adopts an holistic approach. We provide teaching in ensembles and workshops, and can deliver bespoke training.

What you can expect

Our highly motivated teachers deliver lessons that incorporate innovative teaching methods enabling learners to have fun while making progress. Staff will choose teaching repertoire that helps your child/gill/their class/their ensemble. Regular rehearsals ensures that staff remain at the forefront of music education. We take a caring approach and strive to inspire and encourage each individual to realise their potential. Many pupils of CMST go on to study at the UK's prestigious conservatoires, followed by a professional career.

Woodwind

Our highly skilled woodwind team offer tuition on all the instrument woodwind family - Flute, Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon and Saxophone. CMST staff also teach Recorder and Fife.

CMST staff will help you discover and play all kinds of music. Our teachers will ensure your musical journey is filled with fun with performing opportunities and we will encourage you to join an ensemble as soon as you can! CMST teachers can help you prepare for examinations and festivals.

School Classroom Curriculum

Qualified classroom music specialists are able to plan and deliver the full classroom music curriculum in school. We understand that this can be of particular importance in primary schools where there may not be a music specialist on the staff. Pupils experience all aspects of the curriculum including singing, composing, playing and performing. Work is assessed and recorded regularly and planning for progress is rigorous. As part of the school, our teachers will work on ensembles and events in and outside the school setting as well as leading assemblies. Where required teachers will use experiences such as choirs, bands and orchestras. We are able to deliver teaching in both primary and secondary settings and offer support with preparing pupils for external examinations.

Whole class instrumental and vocal learning

The transformational power of music can develop a wealth of skills when whole classes, teachers and music specialist work towards a common musical goal. Most importantly, all pupils are given the opportunity to play and perform.

CMST teachers deliver whole class instrumental and vocal tuition. Schools will need to provide class sets of instruments and class teachers learn alongside their pupils. Cornwall Music Education Hub First Access scheme (instrumental teaching for one term for students who have previously not received it) can be delivered on behalf of the CMST.

Music Technology

Music technology can provide an engaging way to deliver the curriculum. The emphasis is on teaching music using technology, rather than on the technology itself. The musical tools (from free music software through to iPads or sound recorders) are used to develop skills in composition, performance, and an understanding of music.

Ensembles and Choirs

CMST runs and supports an extensive network of choirs and ensembles on behalf of the Cornwall Music Education Trust. CMST recognises how valuable ensemble experience can be in the development of musicianship, offering enrichment for players on both a musical and personal level. It allows players to grow in confidence and to experience teamwork within a musical framework which encourages achievements in both musical and social skills.

Details of the Cornwall Music Education Hub ensembles and choirs, including those which are run by CMST, can be found on www.cornwallmusicservice.org

Instrument hire and purchase

Staff are always happy to give parents advice on acquiring an instrument for their child. This could be in the form of a loan, a rental scheme or purchasing a new or second-hand instrument. Hiring schemes are offered to many students both locally and nationally and also via the Cornwall Music Education Hub details of which can be found on our website www.cornwallmusicservice.org

Please contact CMST for up to date advice on hire and purchase of instruments.
