Spring Term Issue 8

Dear Parent/Carer
A very warm welcome back to you all.

On Monday the 25th February all of the teachers went to hear Professor Guy Claxton speak at the Atlantic Hotel in Newquay. Here is some information regarding Guy (Taken from his website).

"Guy Claxton is emeritus Professor of the Learning Sciences at the University of Winchester, a post he took up in September 2008 together with the role of Co-Director of the Centre for Real-World Learning (CrL). He previously held the same title at the University of Bristol Graduate School of Education. He has a 'double first' from Cambridge and a DPhil from Oxford, and is a Fellow of the British Psychological Society and the Royal Society of Arts, and an Academician of the Academy of the Social Sciences. Guy Claxton is the author of more than twenty books including the best selling Building Learning Power. His practical ideas about how to expand young people's appetite and capacity for learning have influenced educational theory and practice across the world."

As you can see, it ties in to what we are trying to achieve here at Lanner. Life long learners. Children who will be inquisitive, curious, not scared to take risks or make mistakes and who can understand themselves as learners. I encourage you to have a search on Youtube or on social media sites for Guy Claxton as his research and work is incredibly interesting. If you would like to pop in and discuss any of this work or anything we are undertaking here at Lanner with regards to Learning Powers, you are always more than welcome to do so.

Have a fantastic weekend all.
Kind regards
Kieran Walsh

Following concerns raised in the press recently, please find the advice below in regards to internet safety.

Technology is part of children and young people's lives every day. The internet can help to promote creativity and assist with the development of key social skills. When used in the wrong way, the internet can also provide a platform for inappropriate content such as pornography, abusive images and cyber bullying. In light of recent media reports about hacked videos being placed on video streaming sites, please follow the links below for help and advice on Internet Safety:
