Summer Term Issue 05

Dear Parent/Carers

I hope you are well and enjoying the 'summer' that we are having. Hang in the weather has to change soon :)

School is going very well at the moment and I must say that some of the topics the children are learning about are amazing. I am particularly blown away with some of the learning in year 5, Life in Islamic Civilization, linked to the text Arabian Nights. It is such an interesting topic and the children, and staff, are engrossed in their learning together. As you know, our curriculum is very broad and rich, and is closely intertwined with novels and nonfiction books. This year, we have invested a lot of time and resources into fine tuning our curriculum and I would like to thank the staff for really putting in the extra effort this year. Despite everything that has been thrown at everyone this year, staff have stayed on track with our original plan in September, to ensure the children receive the best possible education. I know lots of you do this already, but please do talk to your children about their class book, their learning, or what they have been focusing on that day, When you ask 'What have you been learning today?' Hopefully you will get a thoughtful and clear answer... although, if your children are anything like mine, I have to dig very hard for an answer other than "I can't remember... or...nothing'. :) Take it from me though, there is magic being weaved in the classrooms here at Lanner.

COVID: No news to inform you about. We anticipate going back to normal drop off and collection times after half term, but I will make a final decision on Monday 24th May and write to you. There is still a lot of trepidation and caution surrounding the new variants, and with half term heading our way and the possibility of lots of tourists making their way down to Cornwall, I am sure you can appreciate our cautious approach. Regardless of any roadmaps or 'end of lockdowns' we will continue to be very careful and will not be having large gatherings of parents etc - certainly not inside the school building, for some time yet. As it stands, a positive case in a school equals bubble closures, or larger closures. Until this changes, our approach will remain the same. i.e. do everything that is required to keep the school open and keep everyone as safe as possible. I say it every week, but a genuine thank you again for being so understanding.

That is it from me this week. I hope you all have a lovely weekend and let's pray for some sunshine.

Kind regards
Kieran Walsh

Redruth Library

We are now open 9.30 - 5pm Monday - Friday and 10-1pm on a Saturday.

We are offering a browsing section of adult and children's books and the use of two computers at this time.

From June 21st we anticipate opening fully.

We are in our new premises in Alma Place.

We would love for everyone to be back into the habit of visiting us before the summer reading challenge starts in July.

Thanks
