Re: Remote Learning

Dear Parents,

As we start the fourth week of our remote learning, I thought I would update you with our plans for the next few weeks. There is a very clear direction from the government during this lockdown, that they are expecting education to carry on and therefore we are pressing ahead with our curriculum. There is an expectation that ALL children are engaging in learning each day. If you are struggling to engage your child in their learning or you have a technology barrier, please contact either the office or your child's class teacher and we will help you. We do have some laptops that we are able to lend out.

Over the course of a week your child should be accessing live English and Maths lessons (these are also recorded on Teams). Reading sessions and other curriculum areas may be live or pre-recorded. Teachers and support staff will also be delivering some interventions or additional teaching sessions for small groups/individuals over the coming weeks. We are also planning some more fun activities over the coming weeks with themed days.

Over the next few weeks, school leaders will be dropping into sessions, to say hello to the children, gauge engagement and evaluate the effectiveness of our sessions. We will also be doing a survey for your thoughts and feedback on what we are providing this time around. Please take a few minutes to fill this in so we can fine tune our provision.

I would also like to say thank you to many of you who have persevered through all sorts of technical issues to get your children online and for supporting the supervision of independent activities, returning the work to school and listening to hours of live sessions every day. Also, a huge well done to the teachers for overcoming their technology fears and embracing this new way of working wholeheartedly. This is obviously no replacement for face to face teaching in school. However, we do hope that we will be able to resume normal service as soon as possible. If you have any questions or comments please do feel free to email me on ciara.moran@learningat.uk

Best wishes,
