Any other comments
The school provides a clear pathway for my child to progress in religious education.
A wonderful school with a caring Catholic ethos.
I have enjoyed being part of School Masses, assemblies and liturgies.

Very happy with the religious education my child is getting and the strong bonds with the local church.

St Bernadette's has a reputation for nurturing good morals and the fundamentals to being 'a good person'.

My son understands the significance of Jesus and he has only been in Nursery since January.

Time at parent consultations is limited, not enough time to discuss literacy and numeracy.

Parish support and encouragement is minimal.

The faith and spiritual development of my child is nurtured daily and is central to each and every day

St Bernadette's school is part of a strong faith community.

Sacramental preparation is excellent and the staff of the school lead by example as committed practising Catholics.
