

Safer Internet Day 2020

Free to be ME

For the newsletter and/or website:

Tuesday February 11th 2020 was the international Safer Internet Day. To mark this event at Chyngton, all classes from reception to year six had an internet safety lesson with their teachers in class, and also one in the computing room with Mr Adams. The theme for this year was 'Free to be Me', and the activities focused upon how we should respect each other when we express who we are online, and how we also need to be careful when sharing such information. Parents were invited in at the end of the day for a short presentation by the children. A big thank you to all the staff, children, parents, grandparents and carers who helped to make the day so much fun. We hope it really made everyone think about what we do online.
