

Reporting a Governor visit to Kea School

Name: Katie Vage

Date: Summer Term 2015

Purpose of visit: An observation of PSHE across the curriculum at Kea School.

Governor observation and comments

- I spoke with the school PSHE co-ordinator Jane Wheeler, and she provided me with information about PSHE at Kea including the Key Performance Indicator's. I also viewed the PSHE related display boards.
- The schools PSHE KPI's fall under 3 themes: Health & Wellbeing, Relationships and Living in the Wider World - with different levels of depth and understanding expected per age group.
- The key to understanding performance and progress against these KPI's is by understanding the criteria by which the school will be measured, any benchmarking around this area and the expectation of the Government (and Ofsted) in terms of any targets.
- The school assemblies also follow a PSHE theme. For example, to name a few, there have been assemblies on: Friendship, Rights and Responsibilities, Going for Goals and Learning to Forgive.
- There are displays of the pupils PSHE work on corridors around the school. The displays are eye-catching and interesting to look and they show the pupils understanding of the subject. A selection of the display board images are below:
