Governor observations and comments  What an absolute delight the Christmas Tree Decorating Assembly is. The hall filled up with proud parents, grandparents and carers. The assembly was led by Miss Warren and supported by every member of staff. Every class present, proudly displaying their decorations to their fellow pupils and the adults. The teachers and teaching assistants collect the decorations and diligently hang all of them on the tree. Clearly a lot of time and effort had been spent making the decorations at home or at school. The singing was accompanied by actions and all the children joined in signing and having fun. This is such a lovely, whole school, inclusive activity which I believe is the ethos of Kea School.
