"Where we Educate the whole Child"

1st November 2019

Dear Parents/Carers,

The week of the 11th November to 15th November has been designated Anti-bullying Awareness Week by the Government. Fortunately, as a school we have few incidences of bullying and those which do occur are dealt with firmly and appropriately. However, it is an integral part of our school curriculum to develop children's confidence in identifying and dealing with a range of situations.

Over the last few years we have organised a range of different activities aimed at developing the children's understanding in this area. Once again, we have fortunately been able to book the 'Altru Creative Education Group' who will be performing the play, 'Time to be Different', which explores bullying and difference. Areas covered throughout this week will include: reasons why people bully; the consequences of bullying; the importance of being unique and different; forms that bullying may take and how to seek help if you are being bullied.

Whilst delivering a strong message, live theatre holds its own special magic and is an experience the children thoroughly enjoy. The performance will take place in school on Monday, 11th November, thus allowing time for the teachers to plan follow-up activities.

School will subsidise some of the cost of the theatre visit but we ask for a voluntary contribution of £3 per child to meet the balance of payment. Please complete the reply slip below and return with monies by Monday, 11th November. Payment can also be made online.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

Jane Watts
