'I have come that you might have life – life in all its fullness'

John 10:10

Dear Parents,

Last term, I asked people from across the school community: What is our school's core purpose? In collating the hundreds of responses, the overwhelming majority spoke about preparing children for future life, creating well-rounded children and life-long learners. Where these were not specifically mentioned, themes of happiness and safety were prevalent as well as more general comments about enjoying learning.

It is clear both from these comments and from what I have witnessed this year that this is our school through and through. We get to know our children as individuals; we are a small, nurturing, family school; we are committed to seeing children develop their own passions and interests and to leave school ready for their next chapter.

I believe the phrase 'life in all its fullness' captures this unique essence of St John's.

What is our core purpose?
*Life in all its fullness

For more on this, please see my write up on our school website.

Best Wishes,
Mr Chamberlin

We have a number of children who have lost items of clothing at school recently and despite extensive searching, cannot be found. Please can we ask parents to have a look at home for any items that may belong to other children that have come home by mistake.

Please also take the time to name your child's school clothes especially coats as it makes the job of returning lost items infinitely easier. Thank you
