

Supporting information

In the final week of animal feeding period, blood pressure was determined by non-invasive tail cuff method. Mice were pre-warmed and stabilized, and then systolic blood pressure and diastolic blood pressure were monitored. Data are expressed as the mean  $\pm$  SD value (n=6).